The Pennsylvania Center for Environmental Education is pleased to announce the launching of the Pennsylvania Environmental Education Resource Directory. The directory is designed to help showcase and make available your organizations' quality environmental education resources. Get your materials in the system in time for the unveiling of the directory!

The directory is a database of environmental education resources; books, posters, videos, curricula, human resources, and more, that are specific to Pennsylvania. Aligned with the Pennsylvania Environment and Ecology Standards and the PA 21st Century Environment Commission Report, the database can be searched for resources that pertain to visitors' needs.

At the present time we at PCEE are actively adding resources but the directory will only reach it's potential if everyone shares the resources they have available.

To enter resources:

- Logon to the PCEE website at <http://www.pcee.org>.
- At the bottom of the left navigation area select, PA Resource Directory
- Select Add Resource, complete the form and click Submit Resource.
- Be aware: The Search Resources function is disabled until the unveiling.

The Pennsylvania Biodiversity Listserve encourages open discussion about biodiversity issues in the state. It is hosted by the Allegheny Institute of Natural History, University of Pittsburgh-Bradford and is moderated by the Pennsylvania Biodiversity Partnership. The opinions expressed in messages are those of the authors and NOT the Pennsylvania Biodiversity Partnership.
